

MESSAGE

I convey my felicitations to the Army Welfare Education Society (AWES) fraternity for their relentless quest in knowledge empowerment. In doing so, the Society has endeavoured to achieve and maintain the highest benchmarks of academic excellence. Concurrent to academic curriculum, the emphasis and fostering of holistic development of students, through a rich canvas of well curated activities, programs and initiatives, is commendable.

I am happy to note that the AWES continues to leverage technology in pursuit of its mandate. The virtual realm, has immense potential to further communication and engagement of the community of 'educators, learners, administrators and supporters'. This webpage is testimony towards harnessing the immense potential of technology. I am sanguine, that in the times to come, AWES will grow from strength to strength and achieve higher benchmarks as a catalyst for transformation, through knowledge empowerment.

My compliments to the members of the Board of Governors, Board of Administration and Local Military Authorities, for their pivotal role in driving the AWES mission and guiding our schools and colleges to newer heights.

'Jai Hind'

(Manoj Pande)
General
Chief of the Army Staff